British Science Week - 10th-19th March

The British Science Association's 'British Science Week' is a ten-day celebration of science, technology, engineering and maths. This year's theme is connections and ArtCare have a host of activities to inspire.

On Friday 10th March, 10.00-12.00noon, you can join ArtCare in their Culture Club space, making some science inspired 3D origami paper shapes. Drop in anytime, open to all, tea and coffee available and free of charge. Pre-booking at www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/creative-coffee-club-tickets-547278744457

There will be a special science edition of our colouring book featuring designs based on symmetry, the light waves of colours, human and plant cells as well as common compounds like urea and glucose.

The Common Cold Unit archive is also being used as a resource to explore science creatively. Email: sft.artcare@nhs.net, check our social media channels or the daily bulletin for more details.
